

Dr. Jikun Huang is Professor at School of Advanced Agricultural Sciences and Director of China Center for Agricultural Policy (CCAP) in Peking University, Fellow TWAS, Honorary Life Member of the International Association of Agricultural Economists (IAAE), and Fellow of Agricultural and Applied Economics Association (AAEA). He is the president of Asian Society of Agricultural Economists and vice-president of Chinese Association of Agricultural Economics. He received his BS degree from Nanjing Agricultural University in 1984 and PhD in agricultural economics from University of the Philippines at Los Banos in 1990. His research covers a wide range of issues on China's agricultural economics and rural development. He received Award for China's Outstanding Youth Scientists in 2002, Outstanding Achievement Award for Overseas Returning Chinese in 2003, Fudan Prize for Eminent Contributor to Management Science in 2008, and IRRI's Outstanding Alumni Award in 2010. He has published more than 500 journal papers, including the papers published in Science, Nature and many leading journals in development economics. He is co-author of 20 books.